A very thin wire or a very small circuit board made of an insulating material such as an insulating layer is used in such an electronic device. To fabricate such an electronic device, a vacuum process is usually adopted to clean an etching target. However, a problem of how to maintain vacuum or clean a cleaned surface in an electronic device that is made up of a very thin and fragile material is increasing.Q: Android: Assign a Theme to a specific activity programmatically In my Android application, I have the following activity themes: ca3bfb1094
